ADVISORY INFORMATION

IMPORTANT: When applying this product under the terms of this Extension of Use Notice, comply with any resistance guidance or restrictions stated on the product label.

Total reliance on one pesticide will hasten the development of resistance. Pesticides of different chemical types or alternative control measures should be included in the planned programme. Alternating with different modes of action is a recognised anti-resistance strategy.

SL 567A contains a phenylamide fungicide. A group 4 fungicide. A number of diseases have developed resistance to phenylamides. Fungicide Resistance Action Committee guidelines (FRAC) recommend that for foliar use phenylamides should always be used in mixture with fungicides that have a different mode of action. FRAC recommend that the number of phenylamide applications should be limited. See FRAC guidelines for further information.

This Extension of authorisation relates to the use of ‘SL 567A’ (M20652) for the control of white blister (Albugo candida) to be applied via horizontal boom sprayer in 200 to 400 litres water per hectare. Applications to be made between 1 April and 30 September.
